Alternative Method of Examining Competency

What is it?
The Alternative Method of Examining Competency (AMEC) was created in response to the Texas Professional Social Work Act to assist individuals who, while unable to achieve a passing score on the national examination, have demonstrated the knowledge, skills and abilities to become professionally licensed social workers in Texas.

Who is eligible to participate in the AMEC program?
To be eligible for AMEC, an applicant must have failed the examination at least twice by 5 points or less (65-69), and the more recent of these scores must have been within 12 months of application. The applicant must also possess the required education as stated in the Texas State Board of Social Worker Examiners rules section §781.401, and he or she should have a minimum of 6 months of professional experience in a social work setting.

What is the fee to participate in the AMEC program?
A fee equal to the examination fee will be paid to the board to cover the cost of the administration of the AMEC program and evaluation of the professional portfolio.

What happens when an applicant is accepted into the program?
Through participation in the AMEC program, the applicant is issued a probationary license for a minimum period of one year.

What are the requirements to participate in the AMEC program?
- The candidate for probationary licensure and the supervisor will submit affidavits of understanding regarding the process and responsibilities of the AMEC program.
- The candidate must participate in weekly supervision with a board approved licensed social worker. The board approved supervisor may be employed at the same agency. If the board approved supervisor is not employed at the agency, then the applicant must provide a statement signed by an authorized representative of the agency indicating that the agency approves of supervision being provided by a contracted board approved supervisor. Supervision must be provided weekly at the rate of one hour to every thirty (ratio 1:30) or more hours worked.
- The candidate must remain employed at a full-time rate during their participation in the program.
- All participants in the AMEC program will be required to renew their social worker license in accordance with the Texas Professional Social Work Act and the board rules.
- Once approved to participate in the AMEC program, a candidate may not continue to sit for the examination.
The AMEC program participant will develop a professional portfolio during the course of supervision and submit it for review to the board at the end of the probationary period.

What does the professional portfolio include?

1. Affidavits of understanding regarding the AMEC process;
2. Eleven (11) separate 3-5 page typed, double-spaced papers, each one covering a separate, specific core content area of social work practice;
3. A daily journal of the probationary licensee’s activities and supervision for the probationary period;
4. A 7-10 page typed, double-spaced case analysis covering the probationary licensee’s work with a typical client during the probationary period;
5. A 3-5 page typed, double-spaced self-evaluation completed by the probationary licensee which includes an analysis of the licensee’s professional knowledge, skills and abilities;
6. Quarterly evaluations completed and submitted to the board by the supervisor regarding the probationary licensee’s development;
7. An evaluation of the supervisor’s supervision skills completed by the probationary licensee;
8. A notarized affidavit from the supervisor attesting to the readiness of the probationary licensee’s ability to perform as a professional social worker based on the knowledge, skills and abilities observed during the supervision period.

How is the portfolio evaluated?

The candidate will submit the completed portfolio to the board office for evaluation by an approved evaluator of the board. The evaluator will examine the portfolio for completeness and proper infusion of professional knowledge, skills and abilities of social work practice. Written comments will be provided to the probationary licensee from the evaluator as part of the ongoing learning process.

The evaluator will make a recommendation to the board regarding the probationary licensee’s continued process of attaining full licensure. The evaluator may recommend granting full licensure, granting full licensure pending revisions to the portfolio or remediation of specific content areas based on the evaluator’s assessment of the candidate’s portfolio.

Final determination of whether to grant full licensure or continue the licensee’s probationary status will be the responsibility of the board. The evaluation of the professional portfolio by the board will not be based on the success of the probationary licensee’s interaction with the client; rather, it will be based on the probationary licensee’s ability to infuse professional social work knowledge, skills and abilities into daily practice and the demonstration of professional growth of the probationary licensee during the probationary period.
