

Form 2371 Attachment A

Countable Household Income Additional Information

| If: | Household size equals | Countable income equals |
|---|--|--|
| An applicant (under the age of 18) is a dependent, whether he is included on a parent(s) IRS tax return or not . . . | The applicant, the parent or parents he lives with and any other family members living in the home . . . | Sum of both earned and unearned income expected to be received on a regular or predictable basis by all members of the household. |
| An applicant is 18 or over and files his own IRS tax return and lives alone . . . | The applicant only . . . | Sum of the applicant's earned and unearned income that is expected to be received on a regular or predictable basis. |
| An applicant who is 18 or older who lives with a spouse or other related person, but maintains finances separate from the other household members . . . | The applicant only . . . | Sum of the applicant's earned and unearned income that is expected to be received on a regular or predictable basis. |
| An applicant who is 18 or older, who lives with a spouse or other related person, and maintains finances comingled with the other household members . . . | The applicant, the spouse, and/or the other family members living in the home . . . | Sum of the household's earned and unearned income expected to be received on a regular or predictable basis by all members of the household. |
| An applicant 18 or older who lives with a spouse or relatives and was reported as a dependent on the personal income tax return form, or if he filed a joint tax return with his spouse . . . | The applicant, the spouse, and/or the other family members living in the home . . . | Sum of both earned and unearned income expected to be received on a regular or predictable basis by all members of the household. |